

STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION ENDED

Suffered So He Couldn't Work for a Year, but Mr. McCormick Was Cured Promptly.

"I had stomach trouble and constipation for five years. One year of this time I was unable to work, suffering from indigestion, flatulence, and constipation. I tried all the best physicians, also took many proprietary medicines, but could not find permanent relief. Finally a friend recommended Milk's Emulsion. The first few doses relieved me greatly, and three bottles of it effected a permanent cure."—C. A. McCormick, Andover, Ind.

Mr. McCormick is only one of many hundreds who have endured torture for years and then found that Milk's Emulsion gives blessed relief and last lasting benefit. It costs nothing to try. Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and cathartics. It promotes appetite and quickly builds up a wasted system. It is a food and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose stomachs are weakened, and is a powerful aid in revivifying and repairing the system. This change is better for the stomach, the public, the police and the taxpayers.

In the years that have gone it was the custom of the Pawtucket police to parade with the local police. His name, Case, he was the whole force and his service has never been surpassed in Pawtucket; the service was in addition to his other duties as deputy sheriff for New London county.

An amendment to the annual convention of the Rhode Island Episcopal diocese, in Providence, Wednesday, May 12th, was adopted by the convention, as follows: Narragansett convocation—Parishes in Narragansett and Kent counties; Pawtucket convocation, parishes in Pawtucket, Woonsocket, Cumberland and Lincoln; Newport convocation—parishes in Newport county; Providence convocation—all parishes in the diocese not otherwise assigned.

A proposition was adopted for the reorganization of diocesan government, substituting for the executive boards and committees a council of the diocese, to comprise the bishop of the diocese and the treasurer of the convention, eight clergymen, and eight laymen, to be elected by the convention, and one representative elected annually by each of the four convocations.

Dr. John L. May of Westerly attended the family reunion, in New London, on Wednesday, the date being the 83d birthday of his mother, Maria, widow of William May, who resides in the Northwest section of the city. Besides Dr. May the family is composed of his mother, four brothers, William P. May of New London, Rev. Michael H. May of Rockville, James R. May of New London, Rev. Francis May of Hartford, and a sister, Miss Maria May of New London. All were at the family reunion, as were also many relatives.

William T. May is a member of the firm of Barber & May and James, also very successful in business. He represented the town in the state legislature, and the district in the state senate.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Dear Sufferer: Rheumatism is a disease that starts to leave the system within a few days.

Every sufferer in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenburys remedy for acute rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and away with even the slightest twinges of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without question.

Allenbury has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was in the most desperate straits.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenbury, who for many years suffered the tortments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not make a claim of cure until the sufferer is cured. Allenbury is a scientific conquerer of this worst of all diseases, and he has insured it according to guarantee in every instance.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY SLOWLY

This Is Addressed to the Man Who Really Wants to

George Washington threw a dollar across the Potomac River, but in those days a dollar would go a good deal farther than in the present—and we don't believe the story anyway, because the immortal George wasn't one who threw money away. But just as a matter of argument, to show that money will go almost as far today, bring your pocket-book to the Boston Store, Thursday, Friday or Saturday, and your dollar will go almost as far as George's, and you will have considerably more to show for it.

WESTERLY

Years ago on Memorial Day and whenever there was a parade in Westerly, a platoon of police headed the procession, but now that feature is among the things that were, and are no more. In time it became apparent that, when crowds of the ordinary occurred in the streets of Westerly that every man on the police force is needed for traffic duty, to prevent congestion and to clear away from squares and adjacent streets, to make way for the parade. Therefore, the local police do not now swell the ranks in a procession, but instead are rendering public service and aiding the parade even more than if adding to the general appearance as the leaders. This change is better for the streets, the public, the police and the taxpayers.

In the years that have gone it was the custom of the Pawtucket police to parade with the local police. His name, Case, he was the whole force and his service has never been surpassed in Pawtucket; the service was in addition to his other duties as deputy sheriff for New London county.

CONNECTICUT SCHOOLS SHOWS TEACHER SITUATION

"Connecticut Schools," a new publication by the state board of education, made its first appearance this week. The preliminary announcement says: "The state board of education has realized the need for some form of publication which would keep school committees, superintendents of schools, and interested friends in touch with educational progress in the state. At the April meeting of the board it was voted to print such a news bulletin and distribute it throughout the state."

"Connecticut Schools" is the result of this. In keeping with its title, the bulletin is as it comes to you each month will have constantly in mind the bettering of Connecticut schools. It will contain statistical "educational" news, and in addition, it is hoped, timely and constructive suggestions to be locally interpreted and applied.

All material will be compiled and edited by Charles L. Ames, representing the state board of education, and by J. H. Meader of the division of statistics and information.

Upon the teacher situation, the following is given:

During the past year 7,404 teachers were employed in the state.

For years we have been working with one aim always before us—an adequately trained teacher in every Connecticut schoolroom.
